

Mainz Bar-Ilan Mini Conference

Click to register

Perspectives on Media and Gender in Israel Wednesdays, 16:15-17:45 (CET), via Zoom

28.04.21
16:15 – 17:45
(CET)

Mainz Bar-Ilan Mini Conference I:

Perceptions and media representation of LGBTs in Israel

Greetings

Prof. Dr. Gregor Daschmann

Dean, Faculty of Social Sciences, Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz

Prof. Gil Diesendruck

Head of the Interdisciplinary Studies Unit, Bar-Ilan University

Prof. Rivka Tuval-Mashiach

Head of the Gender Studies Program, Bar-Ilan University

“How to produce urban social value? The case of gay tourism to Tel Aviv”

Dr. Gilly Hartal

The Gender Studies Program, Bar-Ilan University

“Activism and public opinion: The effect of a gay pride parade on public opinion regarding LGBT rights in Israel”

Prof. Dr. Yossi David

Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz

05.05.21
16:15 – 17:45
(CET)

Mainz Bar-Ilan Mini Conference II:

Discourses of sexual harassment in Israel

“Sexual agency, relationality and vulnerability of young women: The case of the Israeli hookup practice “Attacking””

Rachel Levi Herz, PhD Candidate

The Gender Studies Program, Bar-Ilan University

“ ‘So much vagueness’ Israeli ambiguities of sexual harassment as a mechanism of (un)silencing”

Yael Bar-Tzedek, PhD Candidate

The Gender Studies Program, Bar-Ilan University

12.05.21
16:15 – 17:45
(CET)

Mainz Bar-Ilan Mini Conference III:

Media representation and gendered social biases in Israel

“When stereotypes do not predict discrimination: An integrated research paradigm for gender bias assessment of entrepreneurs and technological ventures”

Ta'ir Tager Shafir, PhD Candidate

The Gender Studies Program, Bar-Ilan University

“ ‘Gatekeeping my arena:’ Israeli women politicians' use of social media - equalization vs. normalization”

Naama Lanski, PhD Candidate

The Gender Studies Program, Bar-Ilan University